The works of artist Michael Ross Matherly are synonymous with beauty, feeling and perfection. Matherly's works are collected throughout the world. An Indiana native, he lives on his farm with his family and his main sources of inspiration are from the vast beauty around us that God has created, his wife Debbie, and his son Tyler.

As a young boy, Michael showed outstanding talent. The achievements he holds are evidence of his love for and dedication to his art. Diversity in subject matter has been both his strength and a necessary source of inspiration. With a multitude of interests and loves, he works in acrylic, always striving to call forth a freshness in his work. He spends a great deal of time searching his subjects. That is obviously reflected in the details of his paintings.

He has done commissioned work for the National Wildlife Federation in Washington, D.C. His work has been published on covers and inside several national and state magazines. He won a total of six Indiana Game-bird Habitat Stamp and Indiana Trout and Salmon Stamp Competitions. His work has been published on greeting cards for numerous companies, and has limited and open edition prints being sold world-wide. He has designed several postage stamps for the United States Postal Service. He was commissioned to create a series of 12 collector plates for the Franklin Mint, titled "The Majestic Cats Collection," which are sold around the world. According to The Franklin Mint, he is one of three artists to ever have a plate series extended to 12 plates, and his series has been the most successful in the history of Franklin Mint. He also designed a single plate in addition to the series. He has done several commissioned works for the Postal Commemorative Society. A variety of his works have been published in calendars. Michael has designed postage stamps for foreign countries thru the Inter-Governmental Philatelic Corporation.

His credits also include images used on mugs, T-shirts, sweatshirts, jigsaw puzzle, tapestries afghan/throws, pillows, mirrors, cross stitch, decorative tin cans, wall paper wall murals, tote bags, woven men and women's apparel, magnets, trays, etched coffee and end tables and other products manufactured by various companies and marketed worldwide.
